

1984 an "average" year

Crime statistics similar to 1983

By Carol Dietrich

Local RCMP crime statistics for 1984 proved the 12-month period to be similar to the previous one.

Fifty-one assaults were committed last year, three less than the year before. Break and enters climbed 12 to 54 for 1984.

Theft of motor vehicles totalled 15, a drop of 10 from the year previous. Eighty thefts over $200 were noted in 1984, an increase of five from 1983.

Theft under $200 dropped 54 to 110 last year. "We attribute the drop (most notably in theft from motor vehicles) to a preventive measure we've used," said Staff Sgt. Les Bannerman.

In the lock it or lose it program auxiliaries locked vehicles that weren't locked and left a note in them."

Frauds remained the same — 47 in 1983 and 46 in 1984.

One robbery was committed in 1983 but none last year. And no murders or sexual offenses were reported in 1984.

Other Criminal Code offenses not categorized otherwise amounted to 235 last year, a drop of 47 from the previous year.

Fifty-four drug offenses were reported in 1983, however, they totalled 31 last year. There is a reason for the drop, said Bannerman.

"Enforcement drives offenders into hiding. There is not less of a drug problem in the area."

Liquor act violations reached 256 in 1983 and dropped by 60 last year. In that category, driving in excess of .08 offenses totalled 54 in 1984, 15 less than the year previous.

Seven hundred and forty one traffic tickets were handed out in 1983 and 574 in 1984.

The most noticeable difference in numbers comes with parking violations. Five were given out in 1983 and 171 last year. The reason being that town council made a special request to the RCMP to enforce the bylaws.

All tolled 1984 is considered an "average" year, Bannerman said.

"Crime is flourishing and we're still trying to work ourselves out of a job."

'Pure as the Driven Snow' Production one of the best

Villain Mortimer Frothingham torments Purity Dean.

By Carol Dietrich

The latest Drayton Valley Players' production, 'Pure As the Driven Snow', thrives on good guys, bad guys and audience participation.

On April 11-13, the RecPlex theatre stage was transformed into the Uland Inn where a variety of guests become intertwined in a melodramatic tale of love, evil and adventure.

The stage is set for comedy as we become acquainted with the inn's owners Zama Logan (Judy Germann) and her loathing husband Johnathon (Rick Lasby).

But the play's drama starts to unfold with the arrival of Purity Dean (Pam Ruhland), the beautiful heroine who comes to the inn penniless, but with a dreadful secret in her past.

Her honest and gentle nature proves to be the undoing of the Logans' kind-hearted nephew Leander Longfellow (Dennis Harris) who instantly falls in love with her.

The plot thickens with the arrival of the dastardly villain Mortimer Frothingham, convincingly played by Ian Johnston, who wants Purity for himself.

As the play continues we meet a whole cast of colorful characters including the highfalutin Ethelinda Hewitt (Brenda Cavanagh), her innocent daughter Alison (Sherry Wallace), desperate ex-con Jed Lunn (Curtis Whitelock), pickle factory heir Eric Z. Pickens (Randall Lynch) and his love-starved sister Imogene (Mary Schmidt), who has designs on our hero Leander.

'Pure As the Driven Snow' is sure to go down as one of the Players' best productions.

YEC supports park business

By Phil Courterelle

The Yellowhead Economic Council (YEC) will push for less regulations and more business opportunities in the constituency's national parks — and in particular the town of Jasper — to aid the area's tourism potential, council members decided Friday.

Supporting a notice of motion proposed by Stony Plain Mayor Reg Kotch, the four-month old council will seek further information regarding development in the park and may approach Jasper's Chamber of Commerce before submitting a major resolution to the federal government.

The motion calls for golf and ski facilities to be allowed to operate in Jasper, a major review of the municipality's land leasing system and that "entrepreneurial opportunities be encouraged."

The notice of motion was supported unanimously by the council, which includes Drayton Valley members Claire Carefoot and Manny Deol.

The YEC was established by Yellowhead MP Joe Clark last December to identify and pursue initiatives regarding possible economic development within the Yellowhead constituency. The 32-member council held its first meeting last February.

According to Kotch, the YEC should push for increased development in Jasper to maintain its present level of tourism and to prevent further dollars from being "drained" from the park as a result of improvements to facilities in the Banff area for the 1988 Winter Olympics.

Kotch criticized environmentalists and other groups who've lobbied against commercial expansion in the parks saying with careful planning, environmental damage can be avoided.

"I'm a little tired of a small segment of the population sitting off in the corner criticizing any attempt to get things rolling," he told council members. "I don't see any problem for the environment due to development if it's done properly."

The resolution also gained vocal support from other members such as Spruce Grove's Jerry Hariton who said he is "personally inclined to see Jasper become an active place" but added the town and park is "very restrictive" for recreational and business opportunities.

Hariton explained businesses in Jasper were "protected" from outside commercial developments because of the restrictive bureaucracy that is involved in leasing land in the municipality which is governed by Ottawa and not a local authority.

He also said the YEC could be "opening a can of worms" by advocating increased commercial entry.

"It's something this council could become involved with if it is so inclined and has the guts to do so," he said.

Unit nurses continue strike, no negotiations planned

By Phil Courterelle

Nurses in the Alberta West Central Health Unit continued strike action Monday with little hope of a settlement in the near future.

Neither the health unit nor the nurses' bargaining agent, the United Nurses of Alberta (UNA), have initiated new discussions in the three-week old dispute and no meetings were planned between the two sides.

"There's been no development," UNA executive director Simon Renouf said, adding he expects the strike to continue "for a little while" before a settlement is reached.

"There's been no real change," the health unit's spokesman, Dr. Nicholas Baylis, said. "The board held a conference last week and plans another meeting again this week" to discuss the dispute. That meeting was scheduled for Tuesday during the Health Unit Association of Alberta convention in Banff.

Baylis was unable to discuss the board's position beyond previous statements.

Drayton Valley representative Tom McGee, meanwhile, said he will push for new negotiations between Baylis and Renouf to end the strike.

"I want to see it resolved. It (the strike) is ridiculous, especially since it's so close" to being resolved.

The health unit has proposed a two per cent pay increase for 1985 and a further one per cent in 1986 which the nurses rejected in late March. Nurses have requested a 5.3 to 7.8 per cent ($150 per month) increase for this year and 8.4 to 4.8 per cent $100 in 1986.

According to McGee, the unit's offer was based on budget allocations from the provincial government and extra funding may be difficult to obtain.

"We can't chase it (funding) out of anywhere. That's what Renouf is saying, 'Go to the government and ask for money to pay these nurses,'" McGee said.

The county's representative, Henry Rondeau, agreed with McGee saying the unit "doesn't have the money right now."

Rondeau, who also sits on the unit's three-man negotiating committee, said it is difficult to tell whether the board will increase its wage offer and could be one of the things discussed in Banff.

The UNA has approached the government's Department of Social Services and Community Health about entering the negotiations but has so far been turned down.

McGee also said nurses in Alberta West Central were being used as "scapegoats" to support similar strike action in seven other provincial health units.

The strike at Alberta West Central Health Unit affects Drayton

Valley, Evansburg, Edson, Hinton and Grande Cache.

Eighteen nurses are involved in the strike.

The UNA has also rejected the services of a government mediator appointed to assist the negotiations in the Alberta West Central strike, which has resulted in a stalemate.

"It's a difficult situation," Rondeau said. "Until they (the UNA negotiators) change their attitude, there's not much we can do."

Although the nurse's union has presented a list of possible independent mediators to the Alberta Health Unit Association, which is negotiating for seven other health units currently on strike, it has not presented alternatives to Alberta West Central, Baylis said. The unit here is negotiating separately with the nurses' union.

Sexuality course began

Grade 5 and 6 students at Elementary "B" school will be taught a compulsory human sexuality unit for the first time this year.

Part of the new Alberta Health Curriculum, the human sexuality component of Grade 5 and 6 health was optional. However the Parkland County Board of Education declared it compulsory for its schools.

Next year Grade 4 students will also be taught the human sexuality unit.

"It should be really good. We are all learning," said vice principal Chris Kelly.

"When the kids get educated on the basics then they can make informed choices."

Male and female puberty as well as reproduction will be a part of the course's curriculum.

And health unit nurses are to be used as resource people.

"It hasn't been taught before. Parents were afraid (of the topic) and the school board was afraid."

"But those who wanted it pushed for it and the squeaky wheel gets the oil."

Each teacher giving health instruction is responsible for teaching the unit, Kelly added.

"We had an inservice with the Edmonton Public School system." Teachers and parents were on hand for her presentation, finding out exactly what the children will be taught.

Ride against cancer planned, $6000 organizer's donation goal

The Sun Valley Equestrian Centre will sponsor its second Ride-Against-Cancer trail outing May 5.

The now annual event, which featured about 35 riders in 1984, is aiming for 150 riders and more than $6,000 in donations for cancer research.

Similar to last year, the Ride-Against-Cancer will be held in the North Saskatchewan River Valley on land owned by Cecil Anderson. The event begins with a short morning ride which ends at noon. A light lunch will be provided before a longer afternoon ride is taken.

Sponsor sheets for the cancer fundraiser are available at Rick's Sporting Goods or from organizer Michelle Urchysyn.

In 1984, the ride was hampered by poor weather and rain and only a portion of the 70-registered riders took part.

"We were pleased with the riders we had last year, but not overjoyed," Urchysyn said.

"This year we're hoping for a minimum of 150 riders. That will be a comfortable ride and make it worthwhile for families after the ride who haven't participated in the ride itself."

Organizers are also looking to more than double last year's donations of some $3,800.

Volunteers to help with organizing the lunch and scouting trails are also required.

"Anyone willing to participate can call me and I'll put them to work," Urchysyn said.

Last year's ride against cancer attracted about 35 riders.

Taking predictions

Ice going out on Buck Lake

By Frank Ryan

The ice in Buck Lake will hopefully be all gone by May 24.

If the ice on the 9.6-square-mile lake is all gone by that date, someone will collect a few dollars.

A guessing game as to when the ice will go out on Buck Lake is underway at the Lakeshore Inn.

Of the predictions, the earliest ranges from Monday of this week to May 24.

"People are keeping a watchful eye on the ice," says Lakeshore Inn owner Lola Carlson.

"This year the ice on Buck Lake is extremely thick. But a good warm wind will help," she added.

Predictions as to how early or how late the ice would disappear on Buck Lake has been a tradition for years.

Meanwhile, Carlson, who also owns a hotel at Legal, 22 miles north of Edmonton, is busy preparing for her first full summer at Buck Lake. She purchased the Lakeshore Inn last July.

"Things kick off here the May 24 weekend," the new inn owner says.

However, some cottage owners have already been getting ready for the summer.

The Lakeshore Inn is the centre of the social scene and Carlson is planning some additions, such as a longer pier so the big boats can come in, a boat launch and picnic tables.

Besides being the hub of the social scene on Buck Lake, the inn has gained a reputation for a good place to sleep and eat and swap fish stories.

Additional charge on hold

User fees work against volunteer spirit

What value do you place on volunteer work?

The answer to that question is expected to play a key role in the implementation of a 'user fee' on the fields at West Valley Park in Drayton Valley.

The recreation department is pushing for the user fee in light of their park's budget.

But what has to be given serious consideration is that most of the facilities at West Valley Park were built by volunteer labor, with volunteer materials.

If the user fees become a reality, the sports field volunteers may step back and let the town do the work. Then, the park budget would skyrocket.

Jock Hutchinson, a member of the recreation board, is very concerned about all the talk of user fees.

"When we put the user fees in, the town will be expected to keep up the facilities," he cautioned the board last week.

"The three dollar user fee is nothing, but the users will want something in return," Hutchinson added.

Larry Poppenroth, another member of the recreation board says, "Lots of volunteer work has been done at West Valley Park with the understanding there wouldn't be any charge for a number of years."

The user fee, which the town's recreation department had hoped to introduce this season, is now on hold. A meeting between all the sports field users and the recreation board is planned to hear the pro's and con's of the issue.

Community will be approached for funds

Senior Games committee looks at deficit

Parking tickets are on the rise in Drayton Valley.

An RCMP statistics report shows that 171 parking tickets were handed out last year compared to just five in 1983. Look for a drastic increase in '85.

The Drayton Valley business community should be prepared for people looking for financial help.

The organizing committee for the 1986 Alberta Senior Games are looking at a fair size deficit, the curling club has announced plans for a six-sheet facility with a $600,000 price tag and both minor baseball and hockey are faced with serious cost situations.

In most cases they look to the community for help. Users will likely also be hit in the pocketbook.

The situation reminds me of my hometown. Twice a year, in the spring and

Editor's Notes

the fall, we changed our name from Dawson Creek to Donation Creek as the merchants had people on their doorstep daily looking for money.

The 'Eddie Keen' of Drayton Valley is a handle we've been tagged with.

And, one of the exhibitors at the Evergreen Farmers' Market thought I was the health inspector.

One of the strangest demands we've faced in 24 years on the job happened during Drayton Valley's recent peeewee hockey tournament.

While taking some pictures during a semi-final game, the referee stopped the game, skated over to the boards where I was standing, and stated I wouldn't be allowed to use a flash. Apparently the Mayorthorpe club had complained that the flash was blinding the goalie.

We went along with their wishes so the game could continue. But, what are those kids going to do if they make it to the big leagues????

APOLOGIES are in order to the Diet Centre and TOPS. If you've been reading us the last couple of weeks, Weight Watchers has been getting a lot of ink.

Clark shadowed by curse

By Phil Courterelle

Political differences aside, you really have to feel sorry for Joe Clark.

The berated Yellowhead MP has never had it easy being a politician; his public career a never-ending series of trip-ups and bad luck, from losing his luggage to losing his government. Fate, it seems, has simply marked Clark with the sign of misfortune, a sort of curse that has heralded nothing but problems and frustrations.

This "curse" has followed Clark from his earliest days to his posting as External Affairs Minister last fall and has flourished without bounds in the limelight his office casts. It has unfortunately gotten to the point where, despite his apparent honesty and fortitude, Clark's integrity is now under question.

Judging from the actions of his own government and from governments abroad, Clark is no longer taken with as much seriousness in foreign circles. Witness his meetings, or lack thereof, with new Soviet leader Mikhail Gorbachev or the verbal slap-in-the-face from the premier of the Ukraine when he told Clark to essentially "mind his own business" after Clark posed questions regarding alleged human rights offenses.

The foreign reactions, however, are not totally surprising; they stem from events at home, in Canada, where Clark has been constantly undermined by staff, the system and his own party.

Although Clark was given the coveted External Affairs position, its main authority or power was assumed by the prime minister; Clark tells the United Nations Canada will honor its foreign aid commitments and increase them in the near future only to have his finance counterpart reduce external aid only weeks later in a preliminary budget report; after expounding on the ability of Canada's role as a peace mediator, Clark's government agrees to more cruise missile testing as well as to paying 40 per cent of a $1.2 billion upgrading of northern defence systems initiated by the United States and of course there's the well documented "Star Wars" miscue where the Minister of Defence, Erik Nielsen, fails to inform Clark the country has been invited to participate in a multi-billion dollar space weapons research project by the U.S., which Clark, the same day, publicly said Canadians would have nothing to do with.

Comment

Whether or not these grave public-relation gaffs by Clark were designed to happen or were simply dumb luck is irrelevant, what is important is that the long-time MP has been made to look like an idiot not only in the eyes of Canadians and his constituents, but in the eyes of the world. If his own government doesn't appear to take him seriously, who will? Certainly not the Soviets and worse still, not the Americans.

The doubts shadowing Clark's image could not have been made darker if they'd been drawn purposely by opposition henchmen and it's doubtful if those shadows, dense as they are, can be made light enough to be ignored. Although I've only had limited contact with Clark as an MP here, I think he's kept a sense of honesty in his climb up the political ladder, at least more so than others he shares and has shared company with. But while honesty earns points with the public, it's proven, at least for Clark, a liability in political jurisdictions. As sad as it may be, nice guys finish last when it comes to the ruthless ventures of the game called politics.

"The foreign reaction, however, is not unfounded, it stems from actions at home, in Canada, where Clark has been constantly undermined."

Joe Clark's troubles begin here in Canada but extend to foreign nations.

100,000 expected to visit pool in 1985

Civic arena tops priority list

Dennis Woolley

I would like to take this opportunity to cover some of the goings-on in local recreation services over the past year.

Being that regular articles have not been written in recent years, this can hopefully take advantage of the situation that is made available to us and provide you with the Recreation Department's perspective on a number of issues.

This month is an important anniversary of sorts as one year ago this month clearing began for the construction of the Park Valley Pool. This facility has become a very significant contribution to Drayton Valley's recreation services with more than 20,000 people having taken advantage of this fine facility to the end of March, and the busy summer schedule is just around the corner. We estimate that more than 100,000 visitations will be made to our pool in its first year of operation. To accomplish this magic figure quality programming must take place and already increases in some programs such as morning splash-n-dash have occurred.

This is expected to continue in future months in order to maximize the use of the pool by local and area residents.

Through direction of the town's recreation board and town council future facility improvements are being planned. The town's recreation master plan placed the development of a new pool as its first priority and because of this fact, other improvements within the community had to be delayed until it could be determined what financial commitment was required to complete the pool project.

Now that the pool is completed with the exception of landscaping, which has cost-wise been identified and budgeted for, plans for other services have been put into place and action is being taken to implement them.

The most significant plan presently being pursued is a proposal to renovate the Centennial Civic Centre. An attempt is being made to provide a cost analysis of providing improvements to the arena from simple development of washrooms in the existing structure, to a complete facelift which would include new washrooms, dressing rooms and lobby area. It is the intention of council to have this information available as soon as possible so that a decision may be made to allow for construction to be able to take place before next season if financially feasible.

Additional capital improvements undertaken in the past year, or scheduled to be completed this season, are the ice plant restructuring, new ball diamonds in West Valley and new tennis courts.

The ice plant was increased from 35 to 70 tons capacity last September to allow it to run more efficiently and be able to handle warmer weather.

The three new ball diamonds in West Valley are about 90 per cent complete, with final construction and seeding of grass to be done over the next two weeks, weather permitting.

The two new tennis courts are presently being constructed under the water reservoir contract and will hopefully be playable before this summer. The courts are slated to be professional surfaces, lighted courts and should complement very well the two existing courts by the pool building.

Two additional areas are being given consideration for increased services; they are the old pool building and West Valley Park.

The old pool building, although not proposed for any immediate use, is being considered for various types of renovations to meet local needs.

West Valley Park, on the other hand, requires improvements to its water services, camping facilities and general quality attractiveness. A variety of funding sources are being pursued to assist with this development. If grants are unavailable, such improvements will probably be delayed indefinitely.

A major area of contention this past year has been the implementation of fees and charges to user groups in areas previously left unchanged.

School user fees were levied in order to reduce the high costs of joint use between school and town facilities. With deficits increasing each year in town facilities and budgets being forced to remain the same so that taxes don't increase, it was necessary to levy fees for school use by after-school-hour groups.

The other alternatives being increasing arena rates to subsidize the costs of school users or of facilities or allowing deficits to increase.

The implementation of ball diamond fees has been recommended for 1985 and this is presently being addressed before taking place. Again, cost to operate ball and sports areas require that consideration be given to this occurring. Ball diamonds and sports areas presently take up approximately 25 per cent of the time of recreation parks' staff and equipment to maintain. The parks' program runs at a $75,000 deficit annually, therefore, by proposing fees and charges we are wishing to reduce our deficit or at least ensure that the deficit does not increase.

Town council and the recreation board are planning future improvements to local recreation facilities.

Functions as catalyst

Development committee needs time

Dear Editor:

The function of the Economic Development Committee is to act as a catalyst in the creation of a favorable climate for commercial and industrial development; it seeks to foster co-operation between the town and business community.

It would indeed be unfortunate if your paper were used as a vehicle to incite hostility among concerned groups. I would further respectfully suggest that your opinion should be based on accurate information.

The committee agrees that stock-taking is the logical first step; the bulk of this work was done by the town in a 1984 work project. Regarding the video promotion, this was initiated by Mayor R. Mayhew last year, and allocation of funds will be under consideration by Council in the current budget.

The committee also agrees that the chamber, "the voice of the business community", should be represented. This group was invited to send a representative. Input has also been invited from other groups. Furthermore, meetings will be open to citizens with specific proposals. The next meeting of the Economic Development Committee is set for May 13, 4 p.m. at the town office.

The terms of reference for this committee were approved by council in February of 1985. We have just completed our second meeting. Please give this committee a chance to function before condemning it.

Tom McGee, Chairman
Economic Development Committee

Trail bikers inconsiderate

Dear Editor,

I am writing this letter as I listen to the noise of the trail bike in the field across the street from us. The young rider has been there for three-quarters of an hour so far, going back and forth, even though there are signs posted that off-highway vehicles are not allowed there.

Now that the snow is gone, this will go on almost every evening and there will be more than one rider there at times. Those aware of these bikes will realize what a noise they make, and that it is going to be difficult for children to get to sleep while this is going on, as well as very annoying to have to listen to.

I only hope that before it gets to the point of anyone in our area being forced to make a formal complaint to the police that the parents of these riders will point out to them that it is illegal to ride these bikes in the town limits and to have some consideration for the people living here.

High revenues expected

Revenues are higher than expected at Drayton Valley's Park Valley indoor swimming pool.

And, according to recreation director Dennis Woolsey, deficits are lower than expected during the first seven weeks of operation.

"We're very optimistic about the increase in the areas we didn't expect. There's been very little levelling off," Woolsey told the recreation board last week.

Figures for the month of March show 12,658 people used the indoor sports facility and revenues reached $24,078.

On the revenue side the pool took in $4,110 from programs; $1,518 from 10-card swim passes and $1,147 from rentals. Another $7,661 was generated from season passes.

Since opening, the pool has sold $18,569 in season passes and $3,797 from 10-card swim passes.

Family swim time was very popular last month with 1,291 using the facility. Rentals were used by 722 people compared to 228 in the first month of operation.

Board denies purchase

The Parks and Recreation board has decided not to pursue the purchase of private Betula Beach property along Lake Wabamun for recreational purposes.

An offer to sell land in the area to the Parks and Recreation department was submitted to the board for consideration at its meeting April 1.

Assistant Director Randy Strocki said buying recreational land on a piecemeal basis would not be to the county's advantage.

Volunteers needed

School reunion plans tribute

A tribute in honor of Ricky Woods is planned for the second day of the Frank Maddock High School Reunion.

It will be held just after the supper on June 29, said organizer Brenda Thompson.

"And as far as a memorial to him goes, we have three or four ideas as to where the money can be spent.

"But we'll have to wait til after that weekend to see how much money we have left."

Other reunion plans are continuing as well.

Volunteers are an important item, she said. "We've got a list of 50 who will be contacted."

"The majority of them will be needed for the bar committee." And many will be required to help distribute tables and chairs.

More volunteers are needed.

"Basically the week of the reunion is when we will need most of the people."

Overall things are falling into place, Thompson said. "We just have to go little bits at a time."

People who have lost their invitations or who are unsure of the weekend's events need not worry, she added.

"The week prior to the reunion, an agenda will appear in the paper."

Spring values are popping up all over in the Classifieds.

Candlelight ceremony

Lioness club obtains status

The Drayton Valley Lioness Club is a certified organization. In a special candlelight ceremony April 13, the club received official status.

Sixteen members of the newly-formed club lit candles and placed them on an I-shaped wooden ornament. And a number of presentations in the form of the charter, gong and gavel, flags and pins were made to the Lioness club.

The club's officers were also installed.

"I consider it a privilege to be president of the Lioness club," said Ferne Kinniburgh. "Our goal is to strive to better the lives of others and to demonstrate the meaning of teamwork."

"To be successful it takes total group participation rather than individuals."

"I feel the true meaning of Lionism is people helping people."

Robert Scales, District Governor of 37G, was on hand for the celebration and had some words of advice for the new club. "It's important to have participation — participation from all members. And communication between the community and the club is essential."

"If the community knows that your money is going to a good cause, they will support you," he said.

"This is one of five new lioness clubs in this district and the clubs have a lot of good (fundraising) ideas."

"There are so few available dollars for us to get that we need some new ideas," Scales added.

"An advantage to belonging to our clubs is the morale support we get from other clubs."

Scales also urged local members to take advantage of Lions International. "We have training programs, and other programs that we fail to (make best use of)."

A number of other dignitaries attended the ceremony as well.

Mini meet

Gymnasts show skill

It was poetry in motion at the Drayton Valley Gymnastics Club mini-meet, April 14. Club members flipped, balanced, and twirled their way through various routines in the H.W. Pickup gym.

It was all done in an effort for gymnasts to pass and get their badge levels. Competing on the beam, bars, vault and floor they worked at getting their bronze, merit, blue, white and red badges.

And the pre-school gymnasts had a chance to show their talent in a five-minute display. Their hesitation and difficulty in working as a group made for light entertainment in the midst of some serious gymnastics.

Though participation in the club's last event of the year was voluntary most members took part.

"They worked on their routines for three weeks," said club president Celga Miller.

The mini-meet is one of two events during the gymnastic club's year.

At the present time the club has 80 members aged four to about 18 years. "But we want to get adult members, too."

The club does not compete with other gymnastic clubs, she said.

"We're going to see if we can get the children interested in doing gymnastics during the summer."

And if we can, we may be able to set up inter-club competitions next year, Miller added.

User fees on hold

Two sides to meet

User fees for sports fields at West Valley Park in Drayton Valley are temporarily on hold.

Introduction of the user fees was discussed by the town's recreation board last week.

A decision was delayed pending a meeting between the board and the West Valley Park users.

Recreation director Dennis Woolsey says the user fees are necessary to offset the park's budget.

The fee schedule calls for youth teams to pay $1 per night per field use while adult teams pay $3. For weekend use, which is generally tournaments, youth teams would pay $10 and adult teams $30.

The user fees would only be for the facilities at West Valley Park and would not, at this time, cover the many school fields in Drayton Valley. Recreation board member Jock Hutchinson told the meeting, "When we put in user fees we (the town) will be expected to keep them up."

Larry Poppenroth, another

board member, stated, "A lot of volunteer work has been done on those diamonds with the understanding there wouldn't be any charges for a number of years."

Both Poppenroth and Hutchinson pointed out to the recreation board that most of the facilities at West Valley Park came about through volunteer labor and volunteer materials.

The $3 fee is nothing, but they (the users) will want something in return," Hutchinson suggested.

"You won't find that much volunteer help with a user fee," Hutchinson added.

Recreation director Dennis Woolsey didn't deny all the volunteer work that had gone into West Valley Park.

Because of the concerns over the possible loss of volunteer work at the park, the board suggested a meeting with the users to see what kind of deal could be worked out. No date was set for that meeting.

Long course

Fairways golf opens in May

The 18-hole Fairways West golf course near Alder Flats is expected to open in mid-May.

"It's a matter of getting some growth started," says manager Bob Wennerstrom.

Fairways West opened for limited play with nine holes in 1981 and added a second nine holes in '82. A sprinkler system was added last year.

"It's a challenging course that has never been parred," Wennerstrom added.

Fairways West is one of the longest courses in the province covering 6,865 yards.

Once Highway 22 is completed through to Rocky Mountain House, Wennerstrom expects to see more traffic.

At the present time golfers from Winfield to Alder Flats use the club with a lot of evening golfers coming from Drayton Valley.

One of their biggest tournaments is the Olmstead, held annually during Labor Day weekend, which is hosted by the Alder Flats Lions Club.

Local golfing season begins

The Drayton Valley golf course will open this Saturday.

According to professional Howard Vickers, golfers will be limited to temporary greens until at least the end of the month.

"The greens are not as good as last year," Vickers says.

"Some of the greens were exposed to drifting, some have ice damage and snow mold is also evident," Vickers gave as three reasons for the condition of the greens.

Last week's snowfall didn't help either.

"The snow didn't hurt anything, it just delayed the start," the pro stated.

Vickers and many of the duffers who have been out to the course are eager to get on with the season.

"It's been a long winter. Snow was on the course for 180 days and it shows," Vickers says.

The pro shop is open weekdays at 8 a.m. and 7 a.m. on weekends for golfers wanting to take out their membership or book lockers or club storage.

When the weather permits, construction will get underway on a new cart shed, the tee on No. 1 will be enlarged and re-sodded, a new tee box is expected on No. 7 by May, and trees are being planted along 7 and 9 and around the clubhouse.

SPORTSBEAT

by Frank Ryan

The St. Boniface Saints are the Western Canada bantam 'A' hockey champions.

The Saints downed the host Red Deer Moose Chiefs 6-0 Sunday to win the Purolator Cup. St. Boniface went through the five-day tournament with a perfect 5-0 record in which they outscored their opposition 36-10.

Port Saskatchewan captured third place with a 6-2 win over the Saskatoon Raiders in the consolation final.

Pentiction is a nice, quiet place at this time of the year.

It's five years ago this week that the Red Deer Rustlers went into Pentiction and won two games enroute to their Tier 1 Centennial Cup title.

I had the opportunity to work on the Rustler play-by-play crew that year, and found Pentiction to be a very quiet resort. Usually, Pentiction is wall-to-wall bodies if you're a summer time visitor.

The Rustlers are back there this week battling the same Pentiction Knights to see who will play the Saskatchewan/Manitoba winner in the western final. The AJHL champion Rustlers have their work cut out as the Knights were 39-0 on home ice before losing to Red Deer last Friday by a score of 5-3. Pentiction won the opening game in the best-of-seven series 7-4.

While the Drayton Valley Curling Club has decided to proceed with plans for a new six-sheet facility expected to cost $600,000, the Leduc Curling Club is also looking at costs for a new rink.

The curling club would like to get their hands on $240,000 annually through grants. Council has asked their recreation department to look into the request.

The Town of Innisfail is looking at an indoor swimming pool. Costs range from $800,000 to $1.3 million. Town council is very concerned about the deficit of such a pool, which could run from $60,000 to $110,000 annually.

We watched the L.A. Kings/Edmonton Oilers' series with interest. Phil Sykes, the young man who shadowed Wayne Gretzky, is from my home town. In fact, Sykes won the athlete-of-the-year award in 1985, the same year I won the sportsman-of-the-year honor in Dawson Creek-B.C.

It's always exciting to watch someone on the tube that you know personally.

Are you interested in playing in an organized slow pitch league? If so, call Stan Zimmerman at Mid-Continent Supply, 542-5020.

Zimmerman, a recent newcomer to Drayton Valley, is an avid ball coach. Besides slow pitch league he hopes to get involved in bison baseball.

Tuftin second in pro barrels

Drayton Valley's Iris Tuftin placed second in the ladies' barrel racing event at the Lloydminster pro rodeo Saturday.

She also earned a three-way split for fifth at another pro stop Saturday in Saskatoon.

This weekend Tuftin is off to Grande Prairie for a Wild Rose Rodeo Association stop. Next weekend she returns to the professional circuit with scheduled stops at Red Deer at Swift Current, Saskatchewan.

Collar protectors made mandatory

By Frank Ryan

Players signing up for the Drayton Valley Minor Hockey Association next season will be required to wear a safety collar protector.

A small turnout for the association's last Wednesday night meeting made the wearing of the safety device mandatory by all players. It will be up to the coaches to see that all players wear the equipment for games and practices, at home and on the road.

"Someone is going to get hurt," director Bill Farrell stated in introducing the wearing of the safety collar.

Garry Janzen in the new president of the hockey association, taking over from Doug Hill who headed the sport for the past two years.

Cathy Polfus was returned as treasurer and Marty McKinley is the new secretary.

Howard Baker, Les Bannerman, Bob Smashuk and Farrell are returning as directors along with Jack Hutchinson, George Bergquist, Bernie Frost, Dwight Kuzek, Kelvin Henry, Wilma Enyedy, Dale Warren and Kevin Riske.

The meeting learned that registration this past season brought in $21,140 but expenses included $16,962 to the town for ice rental and $4,200 for officials.

Player fees are expected to go up for the 1985-86 season as ice rental costs are increasing and the association plans to ask the town at an April 23 ice users meeting for additional ice time.

During the past season the 16 teams had 632 hours, which worked out to 39.52 hours per team.

"Someone is going to get hurt," director Bill Farrell stated in introducing the wearing of the safety collar.

Temper flared at last week's meeting over equal tournament time for house league and travelling teams. Parents with kids on travelling teams indicated they were unhappy that most of the tournament time was dominated by the house leagues. That will be a major issue for the new executive to handle.

A parent of a midget age player asked the executive to look at another league. During the past season the midgets faced week night games to Innisfail that involved 3½ hours driving time with returns at 1 a.m. On the other hand, many teams refused to come to Drayton Valley for mid-week games.

The new executive is also looking at a hockey school in the fall.

Minor baseball association requires more participants

The Drayton Valley Minor Baseball Association needs players.

Only 82 kids had signed up as of last week and the executive have expressed concern over the fact 320 kids played in the system last year.

As a result, another registration night will be held Thursday, April 25 at 7 p.m. in the Amoco Safety Hall. And registrations will also be accepted at the recreation office in the town hall until May 1.

At an executive meeting last week, a lengthy discussion was held regarding playing nights. A schedule will be worked out so kids can hopefully play both minor ball and soccer.

Seventeen teams are expected to make up the program this year, using 10 diamonds.

President Mickey McDowell will represent the league at a diamond scheduling meeting tonight (Wednesday).

Fundraising is also a major concern to the executive this year.

The league will be hosting the hantam 'A' baseball championships in August and money will also be needed for the new diamonds at West Valley Park.

A committee is looking at a number of major fundraisers.

"Let's go out and do something for ourselves instead of begging for it," was the comment made by McDowell.

Costs will be put together and an application for financial assistance through available grants will be submitted to Parkland County and the town.

The executive is also very interested in seeing the Olfield Minor Baseball League continue. Meetings are planned with Braton, Warburg, Thorby, Lindale and Winfield to see if they are interested in playing in the league.

17th annual event

Planners work on Evergreen Rodeo

A heavy horse pull, dance, midway, fireworks, parade, pony chariot and pony chuckwagon races are some of the events to see at the 17th annual Evergreen Rodeo to be held in Drayton Valley June 7-8.

Rodeo chairman Ken Gremm of the sponsoring Drayton Valley Lions Club, is keeping his fingers crossed for good weather. "Weather is a big factor. Even with rain opening night last year, we hit the 5,000 mark," Gremm said.

The Foothills Cowboy Association will provide the competitors for the rodeo. More than 200 entries are expected.

The very popular pony chariots and pony chuckwagons from the Highway 43 Association will provide the entertainment.

Returning for a second time will be the heavy horse pull.

Other activities include a dance, Crown Amusements will provide the midway with a wrist ticket special opening night, fireworks, a gigantic parade on Saturday under the direction of parade marshal Sheldon Fuson, and a store decoration contest for Drayton Valley merchants.

The host Lions Club plan to make some improvements to West Valley Park in time for the Evergreen Rodeo. The washrooms will be upgraded, a new fence is planned for the race track and an extra ticket booth will be added.

Local boxers win gold

Three members of the Drayton Valley Derrick Boxing Club captured two gold and one bronze medal at the junior Golden Gloves held in Lethbridge last weekend.

Rodney (Froggy) Tetraault of Tomahawk won the gold medal in the 125-pound junior 'B' division with a win over Tommy Smith of Edmonton.

Randy McQuig went uncontested in the 105-pound junior 'B' category to win the gold medal and Terry Schwartz settled for the bronze medal in the 132-pound junior 'C' class as he lost a tough fight to Leonard Petrie of Lethbridge.

McQuig fought an exhibition match with a 100-pound junior 'C' fighter from Montana, and while he lost, it was good experience against a fighter with more experience.

Coaches Doug Bolants and Ray Duperron were very happy with their three fighters.

Cormie ships cattle

By Phil Courterelle

The Cormie Ranch has moved further into the foreign cattle market following a $250,000 deal to supply Mexican breeders with 125 Simmental and Maine-Anjou cattle.

It is the second such deal between the Tomshaw-based ranch and Mexican breeders since December when a similar, although slightly smaller deal was struck.

The cattle are expected to be transported sometime this week after undergoing border inspections.

The agreement, signed in late March, is an important step for both the Cormie Ranch and Canadian breeders in creating new markets, says ranch manager Bruce Cormie.

"It (Mexico) is another market. The economy is so bad (in Canada) there are hardly any breeders who can buy cattle. So this gives us another market."

"By selling outside of Canada, we're improving foreign exchange and creating jobs as well as eliminating excess products," Cormie said.

The Mexican deals have also aided other local breeders. Since the ranch was unable to fill the orders solely through its own stock, it has had to buy cattle from other operations, he said.

The agreements were the direct result of the ranch's travelling cattle exhibitions in the United States. Cormie said, where the Mexicans first became involved with the Canadian operation.

The subsequent deals in December and March represent an effort by Mexican cattlemen to begin cross-breeding the country's Brahma breeds with more resilient cattle stock in North America. Cormie Ranch's marketing manager, Stephen Black, says.

By crossing breeds, Black says, the Mexicans can retain the best qualities from both breeds. Although Brahmas are known as "survivor cattle" they produce little beef and have a longer fertility cycle. Breeders can increase the amount of beef produced and cut the fertility cycle by some 15 months by cross-breeding and still retain the Brahmas' "survivor" qualities.

"What started the Mexicans on (cross breeding) was the beef. The price of beef in Mexico is the same as it is in Canada which is amazing because of the lower standard of living there," Black said.

Along with the cross-breeding is "a whole technology transfer that they don't know about," Black added.

Future sales to Mexico will depend largely on reaction by Mexican breeders to the cattle they've bought.

The process of creating a Mexican market for Alberta cattle is still far from complete, Cormie cautions.

"We have to sell them the quality they want and the cattle have to do what we say they will do."

Traffic patrols effective

Preventative traffic patrols have made county roads some of the safest in the province, says a county police constable.

Randy Lennon says statistics back up the contention that driving habits improve and accidents decrease as public awareness of traffic patrols and enforcement increases.

The county experienced a peak of more than 100 motor vehicle accidents in 1981. By 1984 traffic accidents had been reduced to 22.

The City of Edmonton had a 50 per cent drop in traffic fatalities a few years ago when the issue of moving violation traffic tickets was stepped up by 37 per cent.

During the same period there was a two per cent increase in traffic flow.

Traffic accidents have a greater effect on society due to injury and death than does crime, Lennon says.

Most people know someone who has been injured or has died as the result of a traffic accident but few know of anyone who has been injured during the commission of a crime.

The county police therefore feel they can make a real contribution through traffic enforcement.

"We know we've saved lives out there," Lennon says.

The 97 per cent conviction rate on summonses indicates tickets are only being written for excessive speeding, he says.

Because of high visibility police presence goes hand in hand with crime prevention as well as the reduction of traffic accidents, the county police use only one unmarked car in Stony Plain and one in Drayton Valley.

The county police are able to involve themselves heavily in traffic enforcement, preventative patrols and community relations because they don't carry out criminal investigations, Lennon says.

The RCMP are required to carry out these investigations.

In an area the size of Parkland County, however, the RCMP priorities for traffic law enforcement and crime prevention are the towns, Highway 16 and the Indian reserves, Lennon says.

The county's rural population of around 25,000 therefore benefits from the visibility of the county police in the acreages, subdivisions and on the rural roads.

Issuing traffic tickets and enforcing trucking industry regulations is not any popular job.

Normal truck weights at this time of year, however, could damage rural roads. The RCMP don't have the time to enforce the road bans, Lennon says.

The county police are attempting to establish good community relations through programs such as "Cop-In."

Constables are assigned to each rural school and are expected to introduce themselves to the staff and students at the beginning of the school year.

The constable's subsequent involvement at the school may be anything from the bare minimum of dropping by at recess to going on field trips, lecturing, showing bicycle or school bus safety films and speaking about drugs and alcohol abuse, Lennon says.

A joint presentation with AADAC on alcohol and drug abuse has been very successful, he says.

Whenever invited, the county police will attend community functions and set up displays on crime prevention.

They are always willing to help establish a neighborhood watch program or to speak to community groups about police issues, Lennon says.

AN INVITATION TO ALL ALBERTANS

WE NEED YOUR HELP TO SHAPE THE FUTURE OF EDUCATION IN ALBERTA

Albertans want to see improvements in our educational system, while we maintain the excellent features of the present system.

The Alberta Government has taken a number of initiatives in response to this desire for excellence in education. The Council on Alberta Teaching Standards is an important recent initiative.

YOUR NOMINATIONS ARE WELCOMED.

A Council on Alberta Teaching Standards, which includes talented and respected teachers, is a key step in shaping the future of Alberta's educational system.

You are invited to nominate an outstanding teacher from the community who is:

- dedicated to the education of children
- committed to the teaching profession
- a well respected member of the community
- a proven leader in teaching and in education

You are invited also to submit the name of a member of the public at large who would be a suitable candidate for the Council. This person will be interested in the education of children and will be a respected member of the community.

THE MEMBERSHIP OF THE COUNCIL.

Teachers will form the majority of the 11 members on this Council. The membership is planned as follows:

- Five certificated teachers appointed from the nominees of interested Albertans;
- One member appointed from the nominees of the Alberta Teachers' Association;
- One member appointed from the nominees of the Alberta School Trustees Association;
- One member appointed from the nominees of the Conference of Alberta School Superintendents;
- One member appointed from the nominees of the Universities Coordinating Council;

Please forward your nomination with a brief supporting statement to:
Honourable David King, Minister of Education
319 Legislature Building
Edmonton, Alberta T5K 2B6
Nominations should be received by May 10, 1985.

- One member representing the Government of Alberta;
- One public member nominated by interested Albertans.

THE PURPOSE OF THE COUNCIL.

The Council on Alberta Teaching Standards will:

1. make recommendations for requirements for an Alberta Teaching Certificate;
2. initiate evaluations and hear appeals in cases of alleged incompetent practice or misconduct by teachers;
3. make recommendations to the Minister with respect to the suspension or cancellation of a teacher's certificate;
4. review programs for the preparation of teachers at Alberta Universities;
5. undertake other projects related to the improvement of teachers and teaching in Alberta;
6. review general directions in teacher evaluation policies.

WHY DO WE NEED THIS COUNCIL?

The first key to a quality education is an excellent teacher. Our teachers share with parents and all Albertans a commitment to excellence. This Council must provide leadership in ensuring that our children have excellent teachers.

Since 1938, the Minister of Education has been responsible for the certification and decertification of teachers. Now the Council will share this responsibility. The challenge is to set new directions in the preparation, certification and decertification of teachers. The Council will advise and assist the Minister of Education.

Six 4-Hers attend

Zimmerman off to 4-H citizenship session

Sheila Zimmerman of Winfield is one of six senior 4-H members from Alberta who leave Friday to attend the 1985 National 4-H Citizenship Seminar in Ottawa.

The other teenage delegates, chosen at provincial 4-H selections last May, also includes Rhonda Golby and Cheryl Fluet of Cherrhill, Greg Neas of Bashaw, Tracy Phaunmuller of Mayerthorpe and Carmen Marshall of Balzac.

The Albertans will be among 60 4-H delegates who through the seminar will have the opportunity to learn more about their rights and responsibilities as Canadian citizens, their heritage and culture, government, citizenship and important Canadian issues.

They will visit Parliament Hill, the governor-general's residence and Citizenship Court. Delegates will also meet their members of parliament and attend Question Period in the House of Commons.

The Alberta delegates will be honored at a banquet sponsored by the Alberta Wheat Pool before their departure.

Questionnaires distributed

Five sets of questionnaires are being distributed in Drayton Valley by the town's recreation department.

According to recreation director Dennis Woolley, it's the intent of the questionnaires to gather valuable information for Drayton Valley's master plan.

Members of the recreation board each have a list of service clubs and organizations that are to receive the 124 copies being distributed. It is important that the groups receiving the questionnaires return them by April 25.

Four of the questionnaires are geared toward community leadership and will be given to sports organizations, community leagues, associations, the agricultural societies, community clubs, groups and organizations and education groups.

The main questionnaire is aimed at Drayton Valley's 120 groups and organizations. Some of the questions ask about group service, age served, membership, method of finance, are town or school facilities used to what improvements are required for town facilities.

Woolley is very optimistic about the questionnaire in the fact that he hopes all 124 are returned.

President enjoys club's friendship

"You're never too old for Olliwives — or too young," says local chapter president, Maryselle Berezowski.

An association based on friendship and good-natured fun, Olliwives "is for any age," she says.

Established more than 28 years ago, the local chapter has grown to one of the largest in Canada, Berezowski says.

Berezowski has been involved with Olliwives for 15 years and has been part of the executive here for the past six years, taking over the presidency last fall.

Like many others in the non-profit organization, Berezowski was attracted to the club's social stigma.

"I enjoy it just because it's a chance to go out."

"It's a friendship club for ladies to get together," she says, adding it also provides a opportunity for women who've just moved into the community to get to know people.

"I don't think I'd get out and meet the people I have if I didn't belong to Olliwives."

Centre's potluck supper successful

By Edith Norquay
There were 8 1/2 tables in play for crib. High for ladies was Mary Piskinowicz, low was Jessie Hutchison. High for the men was Rob McGregor, low was Fred Davidson.

Olive Joan, Frances Sims and Edith Nor-quay went to Heritage House for an Area 7 meeting. Playoff dates, areas and events were planned for the Senior Games at Barrhead in July.

The potluck supper at the Drop-In Centre was a success with 46 members attending. A few stayed to play cards.

After the supper the winners of the winter crib and whist tournament were announced. Crib winners were Jessie Hutchison for ladies and Manuel Reich for the men. The winner of ladies' whist was Elizabeth Saubak and the winner of men's whist was Ludwig Fremstad.

Ten tables were in play at the Drop-In Centre for whist. High for the ladies was Marg Javorsky, low was Edna Langer. High for the men was Rob McGregor, low was Curtis Fagervoid.

Several sites possible for jamboree

The Parks and Recreation board is considering Keephills and Blue Meadows as possible sites for a proposed summer teen jamboree.

Barb Smith, director, told the board April 1 the majority of the county population in the target age group of 10 to 14 is in Divisions 1, 2 and 3.

The department is at this point "just shooting in the dark" when it comes to planning activities which will attract teens to the jamboree, she said.

A volunteer has been getting some suggestions from teachers for a four-hour program tentatively scheduled for Aug. 17.

However, Wade Trimble, board chairman, said teachers were the wrong group to approach for reaction.

The opinions of students in the target age group should be solicited, he said. Randy Strocki, assistant director, said one considered is a presentation of unusual careers.

Demonstrations by a helicopter pilot and hot air balloonist may be part of the program depending on where the jamboree is held. As long as a quality program will be presented it doesn't matter whether 25 or 2,500 attend, he said.

$1 billion tourist complex planned

Ponoka presses for payment
Due to a town clerical error, Ponoka is now pushing for payment of a five-year-old utilities bill that affects several businesses and the Ponoka Composite High School. In 1980, the town sent out retroactive bills to include the 1976 and 1979 charges, giving the offenders five years to pay at a suggested minimum of $100 per month. The five years ended March 11 with none of the four businesses and the school clearing up their bills. The original bill sent to the school board was for more than $27,000.

Major tourist resort
The Town of Camrose hopes to find a developer to build a $1 billion tourist complex that would include three luxury hotels with a total of 1,500 beds, plus restaurants, bars and a casino in each hotel. Plans also include a 100-store shopping mall, entertainment complex, historical park, railway station, bus depot for tour operators and a cluster of alpine villages. However, the provincial government has said it has no intention of making necessary changes in gaming laws to allow such casino operations.

Foster campaigns
Former attorney general Jim Foster of Red Deer says he intends to seek Premier Peter Lougheed's job if the premier steps down. The former Red Deer MLA expects the premier to step down this summer.

Around the Province

Port jail moving
Construction is expected to start this summer on a new jail at Port Saskatchewan. It will replace the current jail located in downtown Port Saskatchewan. The provincial budget this year calls for $10.3 million to begin the two-year replacement program.

Fires extinguished

Two grass fires were put out by the Drayton Valley Fire Department on April 14.

One was at the Cynthia dump and the other one was south of the drive-in where brush was being burned without a permit.

"It's getting to be the time of year when people are thinking about fires," said fire chief Sheldon Fuson.

"Before any burning is done, people must obtain a permit and if there is a wind over 10 km people shouldn't light a fire.

Town hopes to total 5000

When the official head count is taken in mid-May, the Town of Drayton Valley hopes to top the 5,000 mark.

"When you're over 5,000 it looks and sounds better to investors," says town manager Manny Deol.

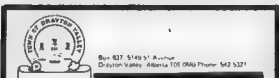

Although the cost of conducting the official census was not included in the town's budget for this year, council decided at their last meeting that the exercise would be worth the gamble.

Deol says that when last year's census was taken and the official resident count was 4,924 many of the apartments had vacancies, houses were available for rent and many were for sale. That isn't the case this year.

An increase in Drayton Valley's population would mean more grant money for the town. If the census shows just 100 more people, that would mean $2,000 in recreation grants.

Deol would also like to see this year's census top the town's high of 5,076 residents in 1980.

VACANCY Meridian Foundation

There is currently a vacancy on the Meridian Foundation Board, for which we are seeking volunteers to submit their names to fill this position.

Any person who is interested in working on a board which serves the senior citizens of our community is encouraged to submit their written applications to the Town Office, no later than April 22, 1985.

McGee appointed to Northern Alberta Advisory Board

TransAlta Utilities is pleased to announce the appointment of Tom McGee of Drayton Valley to the Northern Alberta Advisory Board.

McGee will be joining the eight-member advisory board for a two-year term. Other new members are J.D. Morrow, a former councillor and reeve of Strathcona County; Dallas Schmidt, former MLA and past chairman of the Battle River Planning Commission; and Murray Sparrow, director of Sparrow Companies.

Composed of business and community leaders, the Northern Alberta Advisory Board was established by TransAlta Utilities in 1981. The objective of the board is to develop effective communications between community leaders and senior company officials. The board and company representatives meet quarterly to discuss current issues facing electric power consumers in Alberta. The perspective these business and community members lend to the board provides fresh ideas and new alternatives for the company's operation.

McGee has lived in Drayton Valley since 1961 and has been a town councillor for the past two years. He is the owner of McGee's Men's Wear.

Members continuing their involvement for another year are Eric Boreford, Addie Coleman, Gordon Docken and Moe LeBlanc. Outgoing members who contributed over the 1982-84 term are Ralph Jespersen of Spruce Grove, Dr. Richard Plain of St. Albert, Walter Van De Walle of Legal and Garry Wetsch of St. Albert.

TransAlta Utilities initiated formation of a Northern Alberta Advisory Board serving the area north of Red Deer following the success of a similar board set up in 1979 in southern Alberta.

Former resident 'Auntie Dot' dies in city

By Edith Deby
Dot White, widow of W.F. (Slim) White, died in Calgary earlier this month. The Whites came to Drayton Valley in 1954 when Slim was made field superintendent for the newly formed Pembina Pipe Line Co. Slim died in January 1974 and shortly after his widow moved to Calgary. The Whites have two children: Dale and Maxine. Dale lives in Calgary, Maxine and her husband Harold Morrison live in Rocky Mountain House. There are four grandchildren.

Dot White was appreciated by those who knew her well for her kindness and generosity. She was 'Auntie Dot' to every child on the block. We extend to Lyle and Rachel Beckett, who celebrated their 40th wedding anniversary recently, best wishes for many more happy years together.

Elsie Dressler has been discharged from hospital following major surgery. She is convalescing at home.

Mr. and Mrs. Hamdon Hamdon have returned from a trip to their native Lebanon. A chat with Hamdon on the weekend made me realize how terrible conditions are in Lebanon for the average individual. Travel is greatly restricted. To pass from one section to another is more difficult that it would be for one of us to enter and leave a Communist country.

At one time it looked as though the Hamdons would not be permitted to return to Canada.

Passports are not as much help as one would suppose because of the many thefts and forgeries of documents.

After a heated argument and a display of return tickets, the travellers were allowed to go. Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Peter Tromp (nee Cindy Resler), who were married April 12.

Edith Dunnington phoned from Summerland on the weekend to ask me to pass on greetings to her many friends here and to say all the misplaced persons in Summerland from here are well.

"The store with all the bargains in town"

Spring brings people out of hibernation

Local residents are getting a good start on spring clean-up.

Before last Thursday's unexpected snowfall which put a damper on things, Drayton Valley residents had taken to their yards in the annual clean-up.

The town's official assault on spring clean-up will come during the week of May 6-12 as part of a province-wide campaign.

Residents were observed scrubbing down fences to fertilizing lawns as they jumped at the chance of getting outdoors after a long winter, which started in October.

People involved in any form of spring clean-up in Drayton Valley should be aware that no burning is allowed in town.

"Burning is not allowed, other than a trash barrel covered with a proper screen," says fire chief Sheldon Fusco.

And if you have items to haul away, the sanitary landfill is open 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily except Sundays and from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. on Wednesdays for the public's convenience.

All dumping will be at a spot authorized by the operator. The landfill accepts scrap iron, household appliances, tires, paper, household garbage, wood, derelict vehicles, construction materials such as concrete, brick and asphalt and building debris (by permit only).

For more information call the town office at 542-5327.

Spring means baseball and uniforms

The start of another minor baseball season in Drayton Valley is still two weeks away, but Ginny Kuzek's work has already started.

Kuzek, part of a busy sports family, is entering her second year as equipment manager for the Drayton Valley Minor Baseball Association.

Sorting through boxes of equipment and matching up uniforms take up a large part of her day. The Kuzek's family garage is almost full of minor ball equipment.

When she's not involved with minor ball, time is spent on the tournament committee at the golf course or as a volunteer with the Drayton Valley pre-school.

Her husband Dwight, a computer specialist with Amoco who has been very involved since coming to Drayton Valley three years ago, and their four children, keep mom busy.

The kids — Deseree, 11; Bryson, 9; Dallas, 4 and Shane, 3 keep mom and dad busy with their activities which include track and field, the school band, piano, hockey, figure skating, soccer, cubs and swimming.

"I never had any idea about the amount of equipment I'd end up with," she said during an interview conducted while she sorted through bats, balls, scorebooks, uniforms and even a can of mosquito spray.

Taking care of the minor baseball equipment is a volunteer job that Ginny Kuzek enjoys. It allows her to spend time at home, being with her two youngest children and working on a project she enjoys.

Between now and the end of April, the minor baseball equipment manager will be busy sorting everything out, making sure there's enough to go around.

Minor ball will hold their final registration April 25 and are looking at an April 30 start. Between the final registration and the opening day, Kuzek won't have much time for anything but her ball equipment.

I have no regrets about the time I spend. We should all do something, so this is what I do," she explained.

When the equipment goes out, Kuzek will assist her sports-minded husband and their four very active children.

Early snow leaves educated guesses on fertilizer use

There's lots of interest in fertilizers these days. Most of us need a good crop just to survive another year and fertilizer can help ensure that yield.

Fertilizer recommendations without a soil test can be like playing darts in the dark, but early snow last winter caught most of us without soil samples.

Let's try some educated guesses:

Grain crops: 70 lbs of nitrogen, 80 lbs of phosphorus, 10 lbs of sulphur. You could also add about 10 lbs of potassium with the seed. This is supported by the 'Farming for the Future' plot at Earl Lawson's farm last year.

Grain crops underseeded to legumes: 50 lbs of nitrogen, 100 lbs of phosphorus. This is different because of the legumes. Legumes need phosphorus and adding a large quantity in the seedling year

The D.A. Column

by Doug Walkey
542-5368

will supply the plant for the next few years. This is planning ahead.

Forage crops with 30% or more legume: Top dress with 100 to 150 lbs of 16-20-0. This is not required for three-four years if you put high levels of phosphate in the seedling year as above.

Forage grasses: 70 to 130 lbs of nitrogen. Sounds like a lot of fertilizer but you can get real production this way, especially in a dry year. Remember last year?

was well attended. Round robin trophies were presented to first place teams in men's, ladies' and mixed leagues.

First in the men's league went to the Ted Gryzb-Thoe Westling rink with teammates Walter Kozlars and Bill Fleisher.

First place in the ladies' league was won by the Joan Wynnyk rink and teammates Fern Levers, Brigitte Hanson and Jeanette Polischuk.

The mixed league was won by the Dennis Carson-Mike Wollen rink with teammates Annie Wollen and Shelli Carson.

Tamara Sutherland was crowned the Breton Lion's snowqueen at the dance. Runners-up were Tina Monte and Tracey Hopkins.

The Breton Ag Society holds its meetings the first Tuesday of the month, however, the May meeting will be held the first Wednesday instead.

A bereavement seminar entitled "Living With Loss" will be held April 25 from 7-10 p.m. at the Breton elementary school lunch room.

The Breton General Hospital is having a logo contest. Anyone wishing to participate may contact the administrator at 696-3731.

The regular meeting of the Breton Fish and Game Association was held March 28 with 15 members present.

It was reported that the fly casting demonstration was cancelled due to lack of interest.

Lee Hanson volunteered to start making purchases for the reference library. Books are available on outdoor activity as well as "how to" tapes.

Healthy animals born during Taurus sign

By Joanne Bengier
We are in the dark of the moon two days short of New Moon.

The moon is in the fruitful water sign of Pisces so this is a time to think of planting root crops and bulbs.

Escapist activities are always favored under Pisces and since dark deeds are performed now, science fiction and horror stories should seem very real.

April 18-20 will find us in the dry fire sign of Aries as well as last quarter until the 20th. A time to complete rather than start fresh projects. Tie up loose ends.

In the garden work at getting rid of refuse. Kill insect pests and weeds. Trap mice.

If the neighbor's dog bothers you, this is the time to scare him off.

April 20 will find us in New Moon with a time perfect for all fresh starts and new beginnings. The slate has been wiped clean. Forget past failures and start afresh.

Cheap animals are always bought in first quarter and sheep are especially favored under Aries.

Set eggs under the hen or in the incubator so that the chicks will grow like the moon. Superstition has it that you should set an odd number of

Farm Wife's
Almanac
by Joanne Bengier

eggs, and bits of iron buried around the chicken's nest will protect it from lightning.

April 21-22 will find us in the semi-fruitful earth sign of Taurus. Calves or piglets that are born now will make the very best lean meat animals. The same applies to broilers or turkeys hatched out now.

Plants that are planted in first quarter and Taurus are planted for hardiness, and this is the time to plant things that are used as stems or leaves — things like hay, lettuce, cabbage, string beans. Plants grown for their seeds shouldn't be planted until second quarter ideally, but it is better to plant them now if you are pressed for time, than to do it with a decreasing moon.

People who go by the light of the moon and by the dark of the moon and ignore the quarters will plant all above ground crops from now until Full Moon. Since it is a folk art, there are as many methods of moon-planting as there are moon-planters.

Whose lucky week is it?

Enjoy your last three lucky days, Sagittarius. Luckiest speculators have birthdays between Dec. 17 and 22 and the number to remember when looking for monetary success is 8.

April 21 to May 21 this year, as every year, our luckiest sign is that of Capricorn. Most fortunate birthdays this week fall between Dec. 23 and 30 and the lucky number to remember is 2. This number is achieved by adding the celestial number of Capricorn, 8 to the number of Saturn, 3. The result is all which is reduced to a single digit, thus, 1 plus 1 is 2.

Important days this week

For all English Canadians there is St. George's Day on April 23 when our minds go back to the chivalrous time when knights fought dragons. Sons of St. George wear a red rose in his honor on this date.

Orders increasing

Button business 'excellent'

The Beehive Workshop is busy with their new button machine.

Ron Szala, executive director of the Drayton Valley Association for the Developmentally Handicapped says business has been excellent.

"We have a lot of orders for buttons under 200 and also some around the 1,000 mark," Szala said.

Most of the orders for buttons are coming from local groups.

In order to inform people of the service, letters were sent out to service clubs, organizations and hosts of special events in Drayton Valley and area.

"We've had some response from them," Szala added.

Local scales available for area truckers

Road bans are on again and truckers are encouraged to get their vehicles weighed.

Local Parkland County Police have set up an extra site (in addition to the one in Rocky Rapids) with weigh scales in the Drayton Valley county building's parking lot, providing a convenient service for anyone interested.

"We set it up for a few truckers who requested it and other people showed some interest," said Cst. Terry Pon.

And many truckers are taking advantage of the scales. "We have anywhere from 20 to 50 trucks come in a day."

The service is handy for local truckers because the nearest government approved scales are in Leduc and Acheson.

And because these scales aren't government certified, we allow an extra 500 to 1000 kgs per axle, Pon said.

"We will give the allowance even if the trucker's vehicle has reached its gross vehicle weight."

"The driver has the right to accept the weight or deny it and go to a certified scale."

At present the bans allow 75 per cent of the legal axle weight on oil surface roads, 90 per cent on the Lodgepole-Cynthia Highway and legal loads on gravel. "(On gravel) we allow overloads if the roads are dry."

"Our first concern is the weight trucks are carrying on the axle because it does the most road damage."

"We are also concerned with steering axle overload and exceeding the total licensed weight," said Pon.

"We want to save the taxpayer money." Rebuilding an oil surface road costs $10,000 per mile while rebuilding a mile of secondary road costs $1 million a mile, he said.

The duration of the road ban depends on the weather.

Cst. Terry Pon checks a truck's weight.

FINANCING ALBERTA BUSINESS

The Alberta Opportunity Company provides financial and counselling assistance to small business enterprises.

A Family Business Expands

Wedin's. When you shop in the Ponoka/Central Alberta area you know the name. Eight years ago

Murray Wedin decided to expand that reputation. The plan? A building expansion from 3,000 to 16,000 square feet.

Murray's concept matched Ponoka's need for a good-sized department store with men's, ladies' and children's clothes, shoes and household products. He presented his need for financing to conventional lenders and, ultimately, to AOC.

AOC reviewed Murray's plans and their potential. It was an opportunity worthy of financial support.

The new store opened in 1978. Today Wedin's is recognized as one of the largest independent retailers in Central Alberta, employing 21 people.

If you have a sound business idea, but you're unable to obtain financing through regular sources, call or visit your nearest AOC office and ask for our brochure, Financing Alberta Business.

Home-building requires careful thought

Quality depends on builder's skills

By Lynn Wight

Alberta Consumer and Corporate Affairs

When you need to hire someone to repair or renovate your home, how do you choose the right person? Unless you already know someone who does good work, choosing a contractor can be a difficult decision.

Home improvement projects allow choices in design and materials. Before talking to a contractor, clarify your ideas and expectations. Then, use pictures or sketches to illustrate and communicate them. Also specify, in writing, the type and quality of materials that you prefer.

Both value and quality are important considerations in choosing a contractor. The quality of workmanship depends on the contractor's skills and standards. Investigate both qualifications and reputations. Ask your friends and neighbors for the names of contractors they recommend. Then call the Better Business Bureau to check the reputation of each contracting business.

Ask each contractor for names of previous customers. Ask those customers if they were satisfied with the work done. If possible, arrange to view the completed project. Take along a knowledgeable person to help you judge quality.

Get written estimates from more than one contracting business. Make your comparisons easier and more accurate with quotes which include the same type and quality of materials.

Estimates for projects involving labor may vary considerably. Quality workmanship takes time. Time costs money. Therefore, your lowest estimate may not necessarily be your best buy. Remember to check the quality of each contractor's completed work before choosing.

When you want the work done professionally but it costs more than you can afford, consider doing the project in stages. This alternative is often wiser than settling for the lowest estimate that is "too good to be true." Who wants to live with shoddy workmanship? Again, check the contractor's credentials and reputation before you hire.

Builders and general contractors handle all phases of renovation projects. If they don't have someone on staff for a specific task, they subcontract the work. Some renovators and remodellers specialize in work such as siding and roofing. Other specialists are needed for certain jobs such as electrical work and plumbing. In Alberta, some of these people require trade certificates which identify their level of training and experience. Consider their credentials before committing yourself to a contract.

If contractors solicit, negotiate, or conclude a home improvement contract in your home and accept money before the work is completed, they must be bonded and licensed by Alberta Consumer and Corporate Affairs. Never give a deposit or any advance payment to an unlicensed contractor. If you do, you could lose your money!

As the snow melts away, home improvement projects get underway. Now is the time for you to think about maintenance, repairs, or changes to make your home more enjoyable.

IN THE WEST OR THE WEST

YESTERDAY

Thirteen years ago, chairman of the board Ross Sneath couldn't find it written down anywhere that he couldn't start a life insurance company in Saskatchewan.

So he looked around for the right people. The kind of people who jump out of bed in the morning with fire in their veins and determination in their hearts. The kind of people who make dreams come true.

Twenty three months later, these people and others like them had achieved $100 million of life insurance in force.

TODAY

We're now a Western life insurance company with $1.7 billion of life insurance in force. We employ over 375 people. We have over 55,000 clients. And it's not without a lot of pride that I can say we've pumped millions of dollars into the Western Canadian economy.

TOMORROW

We're really just beginning. Our agents and employees have always given us a hundred and ten percent which I know we can count on in the future. For this, I publicly say "thank you".

I thank our policy holders for their loyalty to us and Western Canada.

And I encourage Western Canadians who are not our policy holders to give serious consideration to keeping your life insurance money where we believe it should be — working in Western Canada.

Some rodeo dates to watch for later this month are stops for the Wild Rose circuit April 20-21 at Grande Prairie and April 26-28 at Spirit River. The pros have two big shows at Red Deer April 25-28 and at Swift Current, Saskatchewan April 26-28.

Performances at the annual Silver Buckle indoor rodeo in Red Deer April 25-28 will be Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings at 8 p.m. with mainline performances both Saturday and Sunday afternoon at 2:30 p.m.

Call the Westerner Exposition in Red Deer at 943-7800 for tickets.

Unofficial CPRA standings, not including stops at Saskatoon and Lloydminster last weekend, show Iris Tufin of Drayton Valley fifth in ladies barrel racing. Tufin had $1,465 in earnings with Anne Lawer of Provost leading the pack with $2,359. Barb Lucas of Sundre was second followed by Annie Stone of Madden and Gayle Hill of Edson. The top four riders are all vets on the circuit, while Tufin is getting her first taste of the pro scene and doing extremely well.

The Drayton Valley Lions Club is busy making plans for their annual Evergreen Rodeo June 7-9.

And, an Alberta High School rodeo is planned for May 4-5 at Millbank. Performances at 1 p.m. daily with slack at 10 a.m.

Food choices key factor in fat contents

By Jo-Ann Hall
District Home Economist

Winter is winding to an end and there is no better time than spring to turn over a new leaf and choose a lighter cuisine.

Nutritionists have been encouraging us for years to reduce the percentage of our energy intake derived from fats. In a balanced diet, between 55 and 60 per cent of calories should come from carbohydrates, between 10 and 15 per cent from proteins and 30 per cent from fat.

The choice of food is, of course, a key factor affecting the fat content of one's diet. For example, it is a good idea to choose low fat dairy products and lean cuts of meat. However, the method of preparation is also important. Fish and poultry have the reputation of containing little fat, but when coated with bread crumbs and fried, they quickly lose this quality.

There is no need to change your diet completely. Most of the time, a few adjustments will do the trick.

In dips and salad dressings, substitute plain yogurt for mayonnaise or sour cream. Correct the seasoning and that's all there is to it. Use skim milk when making cream sauce or cream soups.

Always drain off excess fat when preparing a sauce from ground meat and remove as much fat as possible from the cooking juices of a roast. Finally, choose cooking methods that require little or no fat. For example, steaks should be broiled, braised or sautéed in a non-stick pan. In the case of chicken, the skin is the main source of fat. Remove it and sauté the chicken in a wok with a little oil. Alternatively, the chicken may be poached in chicken stock or steamed with vegetables. Rich cream sauces are also to be avoided. Thickened cooking juices with a vegetable puree or partly skimmed concentrated milk in place of cream.

Auction funds used

Work initiated on Beehive park

Work has already started on the establishment of a leisure park behind the Beehive Workshop in Drayton Valley.

The Drayton Valley Association for the Developmentally Handicapped plan to create a leisure park atmosphere behind the workshop. Money for the project will come from the association's charity auction held in February.

Association executive director Ron Szala is confident the $5,600 raised at the auction will be enough to develop the 4.5 acre site.

"At the present time we are removing some of the gravel and will be bringing in earth, the area will be sodded and trees planted," Szala says.

"We hope to create a leisure park or picnic area for the Beehive Workshop staff and the businesses in the area. It is hoped some of the company employees in the area will eat their lunches in the park.

"Tentatively, we hope to have the site ready for June," Szala added.

Crime meeting set

A breathalyzer demonstration will highlight Thursday's meeting of Rural Crime Watch.

The meeting will take place in the Rocky Rapids Hall starting at 7:30 p.m. All Rural Crime Watch members are urged to attend.

Cpl. Keith Sherwood from the RCMP training division in Edmonton will conduct the demonstration with the help of Rural Crime Watch president Ron Szala and treasurer Ann Kjolien.

"The presentation by Cpl. Sherwood will deal with the breathalyzer, alcohol and driving," Szala reports.

Rummage sale planned for Whitby Local trio attends farm conference

By Evelyn Howatt

Bernice Sullivan, Jaina Ryrie and Carol Kelly attended a Farm Women's Conference sponsored by the home economists from Stony Plain and Leduc. The event was held at Spruce Grove.

Barb and Dean Seely are the proud parents of a baby girl, Karla Lynn, sister for Dayna. Karla weighed 7 lbs. 12 oz. and was born March 11 at the Drayton Valley hospital. Grandparents are Lorraine and Doyle Seely of Alder Flats and Ev and Glen Howatt. Great grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Seely of Alder Flats and Mrs. R. Milne of Edmonton.

Lionel and Jaina Ryrie and family spent the weekend of March 23 at Bowden visiting his brother Les and wife Arlene.

A rummage sale is being planned for the Whitby Hall on Saturday, April 27 at 10 a.m. Tables may be rented for $2 per table, so now is the time to do that spring cleaning and enjoy the fun by participating. Lunch will be served.

Happy 18th birthday to Jody Kelly. She spent

Easter with her sister Robin in Edmonton.

Congratulations to Michelle and Phillips Andre on buying themselves a farm in the Tomahawk district. They will be moving to their new home at the end of June.

Ryan Allan Dusterhoft was born at the Drayton Valley hospital March 15, weighing 9 lbs. 10 oz. Proud parents are Kathy and Marvin Dusterhoft and a brother Noelan. Ryan's grandparents are Elaine and Al Horne and Elsie and Paul Dusterhoft and great grandmother Emma Kelly of the Shangri-La Lodge, Drayton Valley.

At calving season there are always a few surprises and Helen and Pete Pastushuk had one when their heifer gave birth to a calf weighing more than 140 pounds.

The Whitby Community are holding their Mother's Day supper and dance Saturday, May 11. Supper is from 7 to 8:30 p.m. and the dance begins at 9. Everyone is welcome, so mark the date on your calendar. For advance tickets call 542-2880, 542-2239 or 542-4942.

Organizers want fire dept.

Buck Lake wants their own fire department.

Organiser Jim Manack hopes a fire fighting service is operational by fall.

Plans call for a new fire hall at Buck Lake and a pumper truck.

Eighteen people have already showed interest in serving on a volunteer basis.

The Buck Lake group hope to obtain a $75,000 grant from the County of Wetaskiwin which is given to new departments, along with a $2,500 yearly operational grant. A special mill rate may be necessary for additional funds.

At the present time

Winfield has the closest fire protection. Water trucks based in and around Buck Lake are called in case of fire now.

LONG HOT SUMMER — Jason Robards, Cybill Shepherd and Don Johnson will star in "Long Hot Summer," a four-hour NBC miniseries that will air later this year. It is based on William Faulkner's novel "The Hamlet" and his short stories "Barn Burning" and "The Spotted Horses." The story focuses on a peaceful Southern hamlet, run by a wealthy tyrant, which is disrupted when an ambitious young stranger is accused of barn-burning. Robards stars as Will Varner, the strong-willed Southerner who controls everything in Frenchman's Bend except his family. He must contend with an independent daughter and a weaseling son, who is married to the ravishing but lightly Eula, played by Miss Shepherd.

May 6. Topping the list of nominees in the 11 categories of awards are Willie Nelson and Alabama, with five and four nominations, respectively.

Don Johnson
